

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Friday, April 20

2001

Buy tickets now for STS-1 anniversary lunch Tuesday

On Tuesday, the Marshall Center will celebrate the 20th anniversary of the STS-1 launch. STS-1 Commander John Young and Pilot Robert Crippen will join Marshall team members from 10-11 a.m. in the Bldg. 4752 north structure. Lunch will follow in the Marshall picnic area. Tickets — at $3.50 for either barbecue or garden salad — are available from admin officers. The meal includes chips, a drink and a piece of cake.

Blood drive 8 a.m.-
1:30 p.m. Friday,
Bldg. 4752

Blue Cross/Blue
Shield rep visits
Marshall 8:30-
10:30 a.m. Wed.,
Bldg. 4200, room
306

Change Readiness Survey to be distributed next week

Beginning next week, Marshall employees will be given the opportunity to participate in a Change Readiness Survey, sponsored by the Integrated Financial Management (IFM) Program. Results of the survey will be used to direct and improve the communication, training and other performance support to be delivered between now and the time of implementation of the Core Financial Project. All responses will remain anonymous. For more information, visit "Inside Marshall," or call Kathey Nabors at 544-7294.

Volunteers needed for Panoply

Panoply celebrates its 20th anniversary April 27-29. Volunteers are needed for a variety of tasks. Volunteer shifts are generally 2-3 hours in length. For more information, call 519-2787.

Check out status of International Space
Station on the Web
at: [http://scipoc.
msfc.nasa.gov](http://scipoc.msfc.nasa.gov)