

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Monday, February 10

1997

Space Shuttle Discovery Set To Launch at 2:56 a.m. Tuesday

Preparations continue for the scheduled launch of Space Shuttle Discovery Tuesday at 2:56 a.m. CST from KSC. During the scheduled 10-day STS-82 mission, astronauts will significantly upgrade the scientific capabilities of the Hubble Space Telescope. They also will perform maintenance to keep the telescope functioning smoothly until the next servicing mission in 1999. Discovery is scheduled to return to KSC on Feb. 21 at 1:43 a.m. CST.

'Hubble: Secrets From Space' Airs On Discovery Channel Mon. at 8 and 11 p.m.

Mon. Is Deadline To Reserve Seats for Washington Update Luncheon, Noon, Feb. 17, Von Braun Center

NASA College Scholarship Applications Being Accepted

Applications are now being accepted for five $2,000 scholarships to be awarded by the NASA College Scholarship Fund, Inc., for the 1997-98 school year. Applicants must be pursuing studies in science and engineering in the United States. Application forms, which are due at JSC by March 31, are available in Bldg. 4200, Room 206 or at the NASA Exchange, Bldg. 4752.

AFGE Local 3434 Meets 11:30 a.m. Tues., Bldg. 4202, Room 224