

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Monday, February 1

1999

NASA's budget for FY 2000 topic of briefing Monday

The NASA fiscal year 2000 budget briefing by NASA Administrator Dan Goldin is scheduled for 1 p.m. Monday. The briefing, to be held at NASA Headquarters in Washington, D.C., will broadcast live on centerwide television channel 3 and NASA TV.

Monday is last day to purchase tickets for Bill Taylor
reception Thursday, contact 5-1000

Rebroadcast of Center Director
Stephenson's all-hands meeting
2 p.m. Monday on CCTV

'Virtual team' seminar to be broadcast Monday at Center

The Employee and Organizational Development Office at Marshall will sponsor a broadcast seminar called "Virtual Teams — Increasing Speed and Quality with Technology," 2 p.m. Monday on the Marshall Continual Learning Channel 14. The two-hour broadcast will present competitive advantages for businesses in the next century, including networked organizations with clusters of resources effectively linked into groups of virtual teams. Center employees may e-mail questions to: edtec@msfc.nasa.gov