

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Wednesday, July 19

2000

Information technology security briefing Wednesday

Joe Ruffini, information operations program manager for System Technology Associates Inc., of Colorado Springs, Colo., will discuss computer security awareness at 1 p.m. Wednesday in Morris Auditorium. Topics include security threat awareness, work force training, personal and workplace computer use and information safety, and computer virus defenses.

Joint Propulsion Conference at Von Braun Center through Wednesday

Marshall Assoc. lunch, 11:30 a.m. Thurs., Bldg. 4203 cafeteria. Call 544-6340

Washington Update Luncheon with U.S. Rep. Cramer Aug. 10

The Washington Update Luncheon with U.S. Rep. Bud Cramer of Alabama will be at noon, Aug. 10 at the Von Braun Center North Hall. Tickets — at $20 each — may be purchased until Aug. 2 by calling Rosa Kilpatrick at 544-0042.

View NASA's Super Guppy Monday at Redstone Airfield

Marshall team members may view NASA's Super Guppy from 4-6 p.m. Monday at Bldg. 4817 at the Redstone Airfield. The aircraft is stationed at Ellington Field in Houston, and is used primarily to support the shipment of oversized Space Station hardware. The flight crew will be on-hand to answer questions. For more information, call 544-4554.

Blood drive 8 a.m.-1:30 p.m. Friday, Bldg. 4752