

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Tuesday, July 25

2000

Service Module docking Tues. set to air live on NASA TV

The Zvezda Service Module is expected to dock with the International Space Station at 6:45 p.m. CDT Tuesday. NASA TV will begin coverage of the docking at 7 p.m. A post-docking news conference will begin at 8:15 p.m. Marshall Centerwide TV will replay the Service Module Docking on Wednesday at 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. CDT. The news conference will replay Wednesday at noon, 3 p.m. and 6 p.m.

New Employee Orientation,
Tues.-Thurs.,
Rustic Lodge

GSA excess sale,
Wednesday, Bldg.
8025. Inspection
begins at 8 a.m.
Auction at noon

Safety Bowl questions

1. How long should eyes be flushed with water following a chemical splatter into the eye(s)?
2. If you are in a small boat on a lake and see a storm coming, you should:
  - a. Head to shore.
  - b. Fly a red and white gale warning flag.
  - c. Turn off the motor and drift.
  - d. Jump overboard.

*See answers at bottom of page.

Answers to Safety Bowl questions

1. As a guideline, a minimum of 15 minutes. (Refer to Material Safety Data Sheet)
2. a) Head to shore.