

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Monday, July 14

1997

---

Arcilesi Named Deputy Manager Of Center's Flight Projects Office

Center Director Dr. Wayne Littles announced Friday the appointment of Camillo J. Arcilesi as deputy manager of the Flight Projects Office. Prior to this assignment, Arcilesi was deputy director of the Program Development Directorate. He came to Marshall in February from NASA Headquarters, where he was special assistant to the director of the Office of Space Access and Technology.

---

Worlund to SSME Chief Engineer

Armis L. Worlund has been appointed chief engineer of the Space Shuttle Main Engine Projects in the Science and Engineering Directorate. Worlund formerly served as chief engineer of Reusable Launch Vehicle Projects.

---

Craft Appointed Assistant in S&E

Harry G. Craft has been named assistant director of the Science and Engineering Directorate. Craft previously was manager of the Technology Transfer Office. Center Associate Director Susan Smith will be acting manager of Technology Transfer, with Sally A. Little responsible for day-to-day activities.

---

Monday's NASA TV Schedule

10:30 a.m. STS-94 Mission Update

11 a.m. STS-94 Flight Day 13 highlights

1:30 p.m. STS-94 mission status/science briefings

3 p.m. STS-94 Flight Day 14 highlights

3:07 p.m. Senator Sessions talks to MSL crew

---

Sen. Sessions to Speak to Crew Of Columbia from Center Mon.

Sen. Jeff Sessions of Alabama will speak to the orbiting Space Shuttle Columbia crew while visiting Marshall Monday afternoon. Sessions' conversation with the crew will originate from the Spacelab Mission Operations Control Center, and will be televised on NASA TV at 3:07 p.m. The Marshall-managed Microgravity Science Lab is in Day 13 of its 16-day mission. Columbia is scheduled to land at KSC Thursday.