

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Friday, July 16

1999

'Footprints to the Future' dedication Saturday at 3 p.m.

A "Footprints to the Future" ceremony will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at the von Braun Complex Courtyard. The ceremony will include the unveiling of a work designed by Marshall artist Jack Hood. Following the ceremony, picnic door prizes will be given away. Employees must be present to win. Buses will leave the picnic area at 2:30 p.m. and return to the picnic area following the ceremony.

Visit 'Inside Marshall' for complete Saturday picnic, Apollo 11 information

Picnic fun starts with torch run Sat. Park at picnic site, ride buses to run start, 8:45 a.m.

Chandra Quick Facts

If the State of Colorado were as smooth as the surface of the Marshall-managed Chandra X-ray Observatory mirrors, Pike's Peak would be less than an inch tall. The launch countdown clock will begin at 10 p.m. EDT Friday and Space Shuttle Columbia's payload bay doors will be closed for flight on Saturday in preparation for Tuesday's launch at 12:36 a.m. EDT. Chandra status updates can be found on the Internet at: <http://chandra.nasa.gov>

4 days to Chandra launch!

Blood drive postponed until July 23