

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Thursday, June 1

2000

Cafeteria prices at Marshall to increase Thursday

A modest increase in food prices in the Marshall cafeterias becomes effective Thursday. The price increase mainly affects entrees, manager's specials and sandwiches. The increase is necessary because Southern Food Services is under a self-sustaining contract and has experienced a food and labor increase in the last year.

NASA Exchange Space Shop winter
clearance sale
begins at 10 a.m.
Thursday, Bldg. 4752

Von Braun Forum,
TABES, Economic Summit Thursday at VBC

Project implementation class set July 10-14 at Marshall

A project implementation class begins July 10 at Marshall on executing a baselined project using program and management systems requirements described in NPG 7120.5A and life cycle management. For information, call Renee Higgins, 544-8864.

In this week's Marshall Star:

- James Burke speaks at Von Braun Forum
- Agreement signed between Marshall, Air Force and Dept. of Energy
- Team develops software used with Chandra, Space Station
- Small Business Office explains HUBZone program

Employee Assistance Program services for after duty hours and weekends, call 1-888-438-3115