

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Monday, June 16

1997

'Take Our Children to Work' Set For Thurs. at Marshall Center

"Take Our Children to Work" will be held Thursday. The last day to register is Tuesday. Registration forms are available in the Equal Opportunity Office, Bldg. 4200, Room 220. The event is open to Marshall employees with children in grades 3 - 12. Activities will include a program in Morris Auditorium, tours of Center facilities and time for children to spend with parents at work. Contact: Alicia Beam, 4-2849.

Littles to Speak to MMA Wed.; Deadline for Reservations Is Mon.

A special "town forum" format will be featured when Center Director Dr. Wayne Littles speaks to the Marshall Management Association meeting Wednesday at the Marriott. A question and answer session will follow the forum. The deadline for reservations is Monday. A social will begin at 5:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 6:30. All Marshall civil service employees are invited. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $15. Contact: John Cather via e-mail or at 4-1743.

Spacelink Enhancements Deliver Information More Efficiently

NASA Spacelink, an electronic information source developed by the MSFC Education Office for use by the education community, has been redesigned to make it more effective for teachers and students. While Spacelink's primary purpose is to connect educators and students to NASA information, services, and materials, anyone with access to the World Wide Web is welcome to visit the site: <http://spacelink.nasa.gov>