

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Friday, May 4

2001

Jim Kennedy to speak to Public Service luncheon

Jim Kennedy, Marshall Center's deputy director, will speak at the Public Service Recognition Week luncheon at noon Wednesday at the Huntsville Marriott. Tickets — at $17 each — are available from admin officers through Friday. For more information or to volunteer to help at the Marshall display in Madison Square Mall on Thursday, call Rosa Kilpatrick at 544-0042.

Pick up free tickets to Saturday's Huntsville Stars baseball game in Bldg. 4200, room 828

If interested in a motorcycle safety course, send an e-mail to Judy Milburn

Tickets available to Tuesday's community leaders breakfast

Tickets are available — at $7 each — to the annual community leaders breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Bldg. 4203 cafeteria. To make a reservation, call the Protocol Office at 544-8849. If you make a reservation and do not attend, you will be billed. Reservations should be made by Friday.

Technology Days to review Mirror Technology activities

The Marshall Center is hosting a two-day meeting Wednesday and Thursday in Bldg. 4200, room P110, to review NASA-funded Mirror Technology Development activities. Limited seating is available. For more information, call Phil Stahl at 544-0445.

E2-TEAMS Conference May 15-16 at Von Braun Center