

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Monday, Oct. 16

2000

Marshall welcomes U.S. Rep. Bud Cramer, Tri-lateral Alliance

U.S. Rep. Bud Cramer of Alabama and representatives from the Arnold Engineering Development Center and the Department of Energy visit Marshall Monday. Cramer will address the Tri-lateral Alliance and visit the Propulsion Research Center. The alliance will receive briefings, sign a memorandum of agreement, and visit the East Test Area, the Productivity Enhancement Complex, Optics Laboratory and Environmental Test Facility.

Pick up Safety Day T-shirts from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Wed.-Fri., Bldg. 4203 lobby

CFC bus tour Tuesday visits Senior Center, Harris Home

Seminar on creating a 'world-class' organization Tuesday

To stay competitive in business, managers must be performance coaches and team leaders. A live seminar with Ken Blanchard, a visiting lecturer at Cornell University, will be shown from 10-11:30 a.m. Tuesday on Marshall TV Channel 14. To register and receive the materials, send e-mail to: edtec@msfc.nasa.gov

NASA Exchange sponsors jewelry sale Monday

The NASA Exchange is sponsoring a 14k gold and sterling silver jewelry sale from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday in Bldg. 4203, room 1201. Items include gemstone rings, earrings, pendants, diamond bracelets, engagement sets, chains and name brand watches.

Marshall's Safety Day is Oct. 25. For information, visit 'Inside Marshall'