S&MA Reminds Employees of NASA Safety Reporting System

The Safety and Mission Assurance Office reminds employees there is a confidential means for notifying upper management of safety concerns. The NASA Safety Reporting System, which supplements standard reporting channels, may be used to report any safety hazard. Brochures and reporting forms are located around the Center. More information is on the web at "<http://www.hq.nasa.gov/office/codeq/nrs1.htm>". Contact: Rich Gladwin, 4-9407
